

Silver Jubilee Celebration

“How lovely on the mountains are the feet of the messenger who announces peace, who brings good news...” Isaiah 52:7 ff

Walking on the mountain of God these past twenty five years feels like a day for God has always been there to give all the necessary blessings and fill all the valleys and abyss where my human weakness and limitations could not make it.

The utter spontaneity and simplicity of the celebration but filled with love and joy reflects the way God walked with me through these years with cup always overflowing.

With heart filled with gratitude I thank all who have been part of this journey and with open heart I welcome all who will become part of the rest of the pilgrimage on this earth to the eternal home.
